Dedication

A school functions behind its leaders. They set the school in a certain direction and guide it on this path. Since its founding, McQuaid Jesuit High School has had the leadership that it needed to gain its desired heights of excellence.

One such leader was the Reverend Robert J. Boyle, S.J., who played an effective rôle in the growth and development of McQuaid. Father Boyle was first assigned to the McQuaid faculty at the school's founding in 1954. From that time, until his reassignment in 1963, he served as a focal point of scholastic and athletic school spirit.

During his eight years at McQuaid, Father Boyle held several very important positions. Among these were head of the English Department and assistant student counselor. In 1960 he was named rector of McQuaid, and remained in this post till his departure in 1963.

In appreciation for his many years of service to McQuaid, we dedicate this book to Father Boyle.

Reverend Robert J. Boyle, S.J.

Education has been, and will remain our goal in life, since life is in itself a learning process. Of the many aspects of education, one of the most important is leadership. Leadership is a mark of a learned man, and is reflected in all that he does. As students of McQuaid, we should all be leaders, whether in regard to scholastic, civic, or Church activities. Within this book we have tried to show a cross-section of leadership at McQuaid.

SENIORS

The nature of a senior is that of a leader. About him there lies that mixture of privilege and duty which men term "example."

His habits, attitudes, and, most important, his values and ideals are considered the signs of developing maturity by those younger than he. He is truly "the observed of all observers," a position which must affect constantly his actions and thoughts

Richard Spies, Student Council Secretary; Jan Yulzy, Senior Class Secretary; Joseph Hallett, Student Council President, William Roche, Senior Class President; Gerald Uttaro, Student Council Vice-President

The history of McQuaid's sixth graduating class began four years ago, as a group of freshmen in ill-fitting suit coats and trousers assembled in the gymnasium one cold September morning. We, the class of '63, are the characters in this epic account of growing maturity and a deepening sense of awareness.

The first milestone along the way was our three-day retreat conducted by Father Frederick Kelly, S.J. It was during this time of meditation and orientation that we first came in contact with the Jesuits who would play such an important role in our development.

It wasn't long before we frosh had stepped warily into extra-curriculars. Bill Roche's speech in the oratoricals on "Bishop McQuaid" and a glee club solo by tenor Terry Dwyer were tangible evidences of this.

First year was also making news on the athletic field. Thirteen frosh did battle on the J.V. gridiron along with the sophomore regulars. The freshman basketball team, under Mr. Janick, started fast, then lost the pace, but finished with a respectable 10-8 record. High scoring Dick Spies triggered the Pages to several impressive victories.

Before we knew it, first year was over. However, the memories of Father McCaffrey's drill sessions in the book store, Miss Fox's tunaburgers, the Library Science periods, Friday night class nights, jug, and those rugged Province exams would linger on for years to come.

Sophomore year we returned to classes wiser and more confident of ourselves. McQuaid's administration had also taken on a new look as Father Boyle became the new rector and Father Carr took over as principal.

Coach Noce's J.V. football charges, quarterbacked by Paul McConville, showed much promise for the future. Also that season Terry Dunlavy won a starting halfback spot on the varsity soccer team. Record-breaking sophomore hoopsters, under Mr. Mancarella, compiled a 14-4 record that speaks for itself. The wrestling team was also a favorite with sophs as featherweight Jim Blum headed the second year letter-winners.

In other departments, Jim Connor and Russ Westkirk represented our year in the Dramatics Club's presentation of "Twelve Angry Men." Theatrically minded sophomores also staged their own play, "Pyramus and Thisbe," with Mike Bestor and Mike Mott leading the star-studded cast.

One hundred and fifty geometry classes and six IBM report cards later, sophomore year finally faded away.

We returned in the fall as upperclassmen, anxious to get moving again. Sturdley, the periods in the language lab, Father Connelly's smoking raids, College Day, and those basketball record hops punctuated the eventful year.

The extra-curricular spotlight again turned toward drama as Mr. Gafney's junior play, "Dress Reversal," won the best production award in the one-act play festival "Stalag 17," presented by Mr. Zogby's Dramatics Club, featured juniors Ron Pirerra, Karl Dash, and a bathtub sensation, Greg Maher, in starring roles.

After a well-postered campaign, the team of Joe Hallett, Jerry Uttaro, Bruce Zicari, and Dick Spies was chosen to fill the positions of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the Student Council. This election was the first under the new constitution.

Despite a leak in the pond-centerpiece, the Junior Prom was a sweet success. Tom Brady's mural depicting a Roman scene highlighted the elaborate decorations. Thus with the passing of June exams, the curtain closed on our third year.

Fourth year started on a serious note as each senior home-room traveled to Syracuse during the fall for a three-day closed retreat.

McQuaid football never looked better, as Mr. Seymour's Knights closed the season with a record of 4-3-1. Flashy Bill Bruckel, work-horse Jim Pezzulo, and stout-armed Dick Spies highlighted the backfield while Captain Tom Fuerst, "Mouse," anchored the line. The basketball five, spearheaded by Jerry McCabe, suffered from inexperience, but provided some memorable moments. Heavyweight Steve Tisa set the example for the varsity wrestlers, who completed the most successful season in the history of the school.

Percentage-wise, McQuaid paced all area schools, as thirty-six seniors copped Regents scholarships. Fourth year also chalked up five National Merit finalists.

Father Dugan's Debating Society, with President Tom Maier leading the way, met with continued success. The senior cheerleaders, captained by Dick Aguglia, rallied the whole school behind the basketball team, and entertained the crowds with their off-beat stunts. The inspired and imaginative work of the Poster Club and the Lance also contributed much to McQuaid tradition.

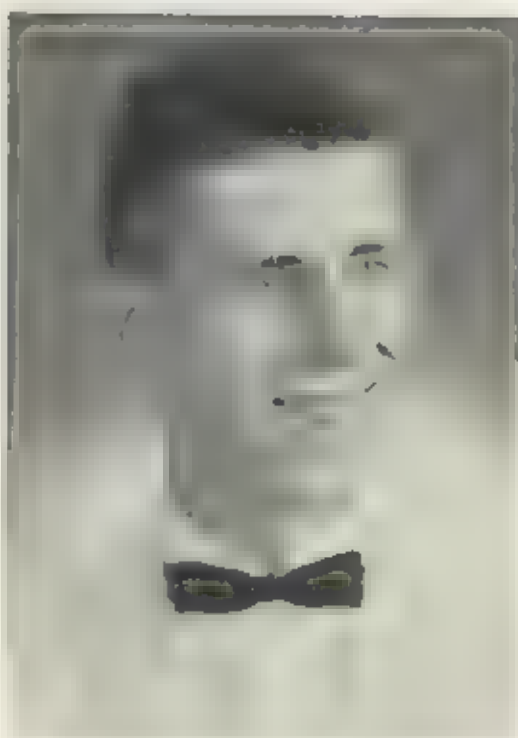

In competition with dramatic groups from three New York City Jesuit high schools, the McQuaid entry, "Aria da Capo," walked off with the school trophy. Dave Zaumeyer, who led the cast of five seniors, and Tom Kipp, the stage crew manager, also captured both the individual awards.

The senior class officers and Mr. Voelkle, S.J., the fourth year adviser, initiated the first annual Senior Winter Weekend. A basketball excursion to Camillus, an afternoon tobaggan party and a combination play-record hop that night plus a senior mass in the student's chapel Sunday morning comprised the weekend events.

The demands of college and the rigors of adulthood now lie before us. Our success will depend, to a great extent, on how we adjust to these problems ahead of us. Our McQuaid education was slanted to prepare us for the future. From now on we will meet all new challenges as "men of McQuaid."

UNDERCLASSMEN

The education of a leader has been a subject for philosophers since the time of Plato

Logically enough, Plato in his Republic expressed as the ideal a society governed by philosophers. He knew that the greatest justice and efficiency would spring from a knowledge of men and their ideas

In the education of leaders, McQuaid and the Jesuits seek to school every student toward an ideal: the man who, knowing the truth, can lead others to it

ACTIVITIES

A leader must know the people he leads. He must know them as a group and as individuals

Through the contact of communal activities, he develops an awareness of humanity; how and why it reacts. But, above all, a relationship with his fellows can communicate to him a knowledge and understanding of himself, of who he is . . . and why

Sodalities of Our Lady

Why are we here? What are we doing? Where are we going? In trying to learn the answers to these questions the sodalist learns to be a better Catholic and to lead a better life. He also learns to know God, and in knowing Him, to love Him, and in loving Him, to serve Him better in everything the sodalist does.

The sodalist doesn't wait until some later date to do something. If there is work to be done, he does it immediately. Every week two sodalists help the less fortunate people at St. Joseph's House of Hospitality. In addition, every month each sodalist sends a birthday card and a spiritual bouquet to two people in St. Ann's Home for the aged.

These are examples of the way of life that the sodalist lives. But in living the sodality way of life, the sodalist does many other little things that show his Catholic spirit. A sodalist isn't just an ordinary Catholic. The Church, God, and Christ mean too much for him to lead an ordinary life; he has to be a leader. The world is there to be conquered, and the sodalist is trying to conquer it for Christ.

For the Student Council, 1962-63 was a year of revision.

First was the drafting of a new constitution for the Booster Club, under which the club's president was given a cabinet post on the Council. The Boosters were enabled to fulfill more practically and efficiently their function of promoting school spirit.

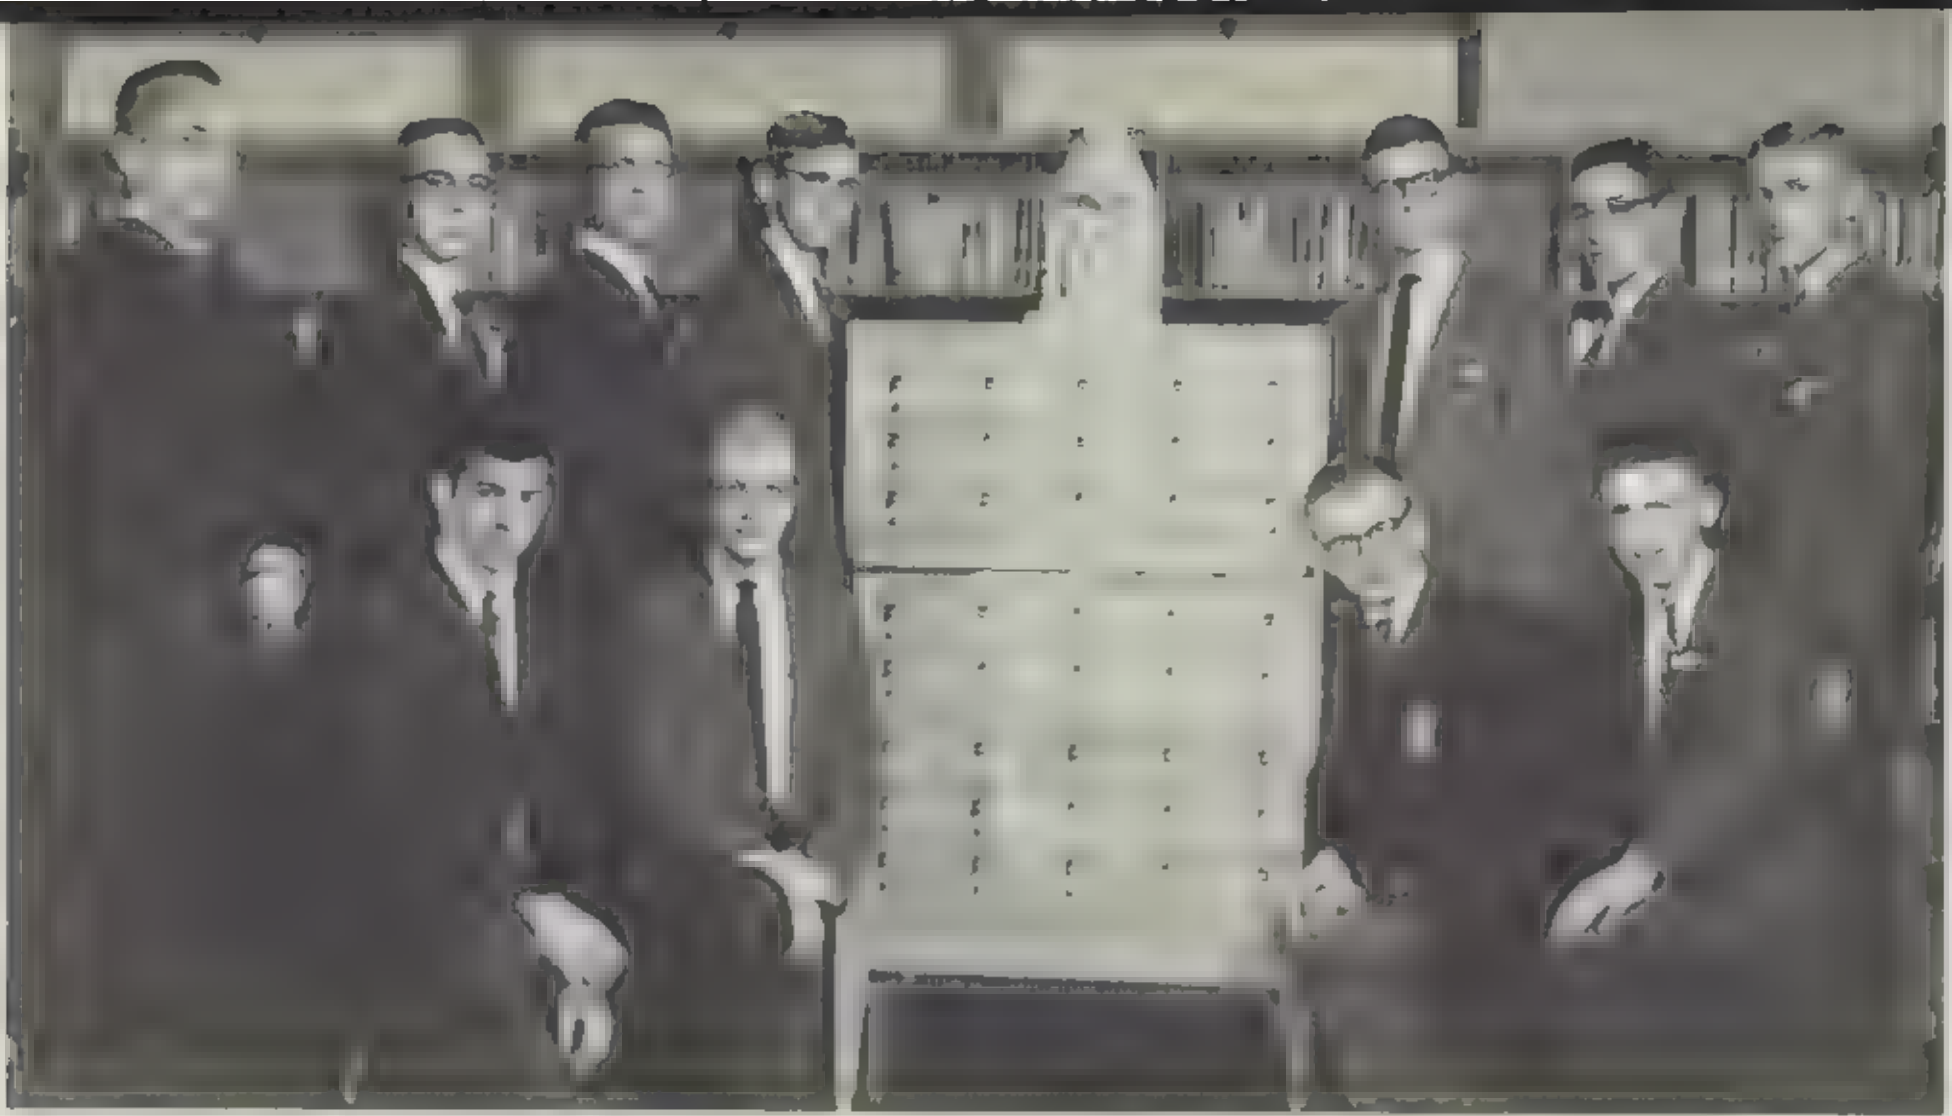

The Student Council next sought to revise the Student Constitution, realizing that it was insufficient for the needs of the changed Council. The duties of officers were clarified, new penalties set for absences from major and minor council meetings, and new legislation concerning emergency proposals introduced.

The single most important step taken by this year's Council was its decision to encourage the participation of larger numbers of students in the running of McQuaid activities. This decision has been carried out by the institution of cabinet posts to be filled by students from each of the sophomore, junior, and senior years.

The Council served, in addition, to fulfill ably its traditional functions, both representing the student body and working as a liaison between them and McQuaid's administration.

Debating

Under the direction of its moderator, Rev. Paul Dugan, S.J., the McQuaid Debating Society has shown itself a key factor in the fulfillment of the school motto, "Ignem mittere in terram." Emphasizing personal forensic development, the Debating Society has produced men who are willing and anxious to take an active interest in the affairs of today and tomorrow.

McQuaid debaters have travelled to four states, the District of Columbia, and the Canadian Province of Ontario to hold successfully their stand on the national topic.

Resolved: That the United States should promote a Common Market for the Western Hemisphere." Also, under the very able direction of Mr. Leo Gafney, S.J., the McQuaid Oratorical Society, fresh from last year's trip to the National Forensic League Finals in Montana, has proved itself an effective force in all types of competitive oratory.

Through the efforts of Fr. Dugan, the itinerary of the Debating Society has been expanded to include such tournaments as the Dartmouth College, Georgetown University, and Gannon College Tournaments.

A team was also sent to participate in a radio debate in Buffalo. On the novice and semi-experienced levels, debaters competed with much success in the Rochester Area Debate League. On the varsity level, two first places, a third place, as well as numerous speaking awards, were taken.

This year has been a successful one for the McQuaid Debating and Oratorical Societies. The long hours of research, practice, and preparation, combined with the expert guidance of both Fr. Dugan and Mr. Gafney, have culminated in an assurance of the continuance of that tradition of success for which McQuaid is known throughout the state.

The debaters show one of the results of their efforts.

Dramatics

Early in the year the Dramatics Club met under its new president, Jerry Magin, and rejuvenated its rules and constitution. For the greater part of the first semester, Mr. Edward Zogby, S.J., the faculty moderator, conducted a workshop for the group, which consisted of various films and demonstrations aimed at the refinement of theatrical technique.

For McQuaid's Senior Weekend, the Dramatics Club assisted the senior Greek class in presenting Orestes by Euripedes. The capable direction of Mr. James J. Bowes, S.J., combined with the talented performances of Dick Acosta, Bob Masucci, Jim Connor, Tom Holohan, Terry Downey, Jim Broadman, and Tom Sable made the evening a highpoint of the weekend.

At the Inter-Jesuit High School Play Festival in New York City during February of this year, McQuaid presented Aria da Capo, a harlequinade by Edna St. Vincent Millay.

This is the story of how ordinary people set up barriers between themselves and others through selfishness, greed, and indifference, and featured Dave Zaumeyer, Dean McMullen, Bob Masucci, Tom Fuerst, and Mike Greco.

Also on the spring agenda was the production of Green Pastures, presented on May third and fourth.

Throughout the year, the stage crew, under the direction of Mr. David White, S.J., has done an outstanding job of preparing the lighting and sound systems for all of McQuaid's productions.

Students, spirit, tradition: with these three objectives in mind, the Booster Club fanned the spark which ignites the fire of tradition and spirit in McQuaid

Under the guidance of its moderator, Mr. Robert E. Voelkle, S. J., and new president, Sam Desiderio, the Booster Club set this goal and achieved it

The Booster Club swung into high gear with the first rally of the year. Due to the efforts of Bill Becker, Rally Chairman, McQuaid students experienced the most successful night rally in the school's history. Throughout the year, Bill kept up this pace in every rally

Behind every successful organization is a person who must perform the tedious task of keeping accurate records. This year Mike Bestor was given the job of Secretary-Treasurer, and capably fulfilled his obligation

Once more, the excursion buses carried students eager to cheer their team on to victory. Through the efforts of Chuck Tisa, Excursion Chairman, hundreds of tickets were sold to enthusiastic supporters

The Booster Club is a powerful means to mold the spirit and tradition of McQuaid High. However, only the students are in a position to take advantage of this means. The 1962-63 Booster Club is an organization McQuaiders can well be proud of

Press Club

Floyd Curtis, Gerald Delaney, Leo Bosner

This year, more than ever before, McQuaid has been publicized in both city and county newspapers. Responsible for a large share of this publicity was the Press Club.

Although hampered in the past by its small membership, the Press Club is swiftly gaining momentum. This year the Club was at last large enough to elect officers. President Gerry DeLaney, Vice-President Floyd Curtis, and Secretary Leo Bosner were able to take over many jobs previously handled by moderator Mr. Robert Bradley, who was able to assume more of a supervisory function.

Press Club members are assigned to cover various sports and extracurricular activities, as well as scholastic achievements. Articles on all events and activities are sent to area and city papers. Once printed, the articles are clipped and posted on the activities bulletin board. The articles are later taken down and pasted into the school scrapbook.

If one wished to describe McQuaid's literary activities, the Lance, the Accolade, and the Kennings, in concise but fully descriptive language, he would choose the word "progressive."

The term "progressive," as applied to the Lance, implies innovation. This year the Lance has added to its regular sections three such innovations: "Book Review," "On Target," and the survey editorial. The book review consists of a critical analysis of some modern novel by one of the Advanced Placement English students. "On Target" is a feature coverage of some important Monroe County institution, like the Democrat and Chronicle. The survey editorial is a new and realistic approach to the familiar form of didactic writing. Instead of composing the editorials on the hearsay of their own opinions the editors have utilized statistics, group discussions, and personal interviews to substantiate and implement their ideas.

In the case of the Accolade, the term "progressive" suggests more of a reapportionment and expansion. Some activities which are now defunct, like the Glee Club and the Band, have been replaced by new activities, such as the Riding Club. Other activities' pages have been lessened or increased in number according to the relative importance of the activity during the year. The Accolade has also expanded the length of its dividers. In the sports divider, for example, the first page includes the schedule, and a few details.

In the fourth edition of the Kennings, the term "progressive" is synonymous with "diverse." The magazine, which has already attained the literary quality and student interest of the Lance and Accolade, has on its pages given public recognition to McQuaid's best poets, essayists, cartoonists, photographers, and literary critics.

SPORTS

A very special phase of leadership emerges on the fields and courts at McQuaid. It is the product of great physical effort, concentrated toward a goal by co-ordination and self-discipline.

The ability to sense one's function as a member of a team is essential for efficient leadership. The man who realizes that it is as important to contribute as it is to impel has learned the primary lesson of a leader.

Spies hurries to complete pass.

The grid knights in 1963 fashioned a 4-3-1 season against the toughest schedule ever faced by a McQuaid eleven. Behind the coaching of Mr. Seymour the team spirit caught fire as they completed several impressive victories.

All season long big fullback Jim Pezzulo was the Knights' hardest runner. He ended up with the most yards gained and was tied with Bill Bruckel for high scoring honors. Halfback Bruckel was the speed man of the team who broke open several times for long runs. Quarterback Dick Spies, who scored 22 points, always seemed to call the right play at the right time. He, along with Tom Fuerst, Co-Captains of this year's varsity team proved to be excellent leaders and inspirations to the team.

Up front of these men was the huge McQuaid line led by Tom Fuerst, Joe Hillert and Steve Isa. These seven men provided the blocking which throughout the year more than held its own against the opposition.

MT. CARMEL. The Knights opened the season with a decisive victory as they belted Mt. Carmel 33-7. The team was led by Bill Bruckel who scored 12, and sophomore Mike Spiegel who ran an interception back 98 yards for a TD.

Archibishop gets short yardage through the line.

HORNELL. The next Saturday McQuaid hosted a determined team from Hornell and sent them home after a real McQuaid team victory, 13-7.

ARCHBISHOP WALSH. The Knights were home again the following week to take a 13-0 beating from the powerhouse from Olean in which QB Dick Spies was injured.

JAMESTOWN. On the next Saturday the Black and Gold travelled downstate for a night game. The score was a 13-13 deadlock in a game in which several seniors were not able to even suit up because of injuries.

McQuaid Soccer Team

Varsity Soccer

Although sporting a dismal record of 2-6-2 for the past season, the Varsity Soccer team designated itself victors in various respects.

The team, led by Co-Captains Chuck Tisa and Tom Menihan, although compiling a losing record, played very well at times. This is pointed out by a glance at the scores. While winning only two games, the team lost eight games by two goals or less. These games will go down in the score book as losses, yet it should be noted that with a few breaks McQuaid could have won many of these games.

The two high points of the season came with a 10-2 victory over Jefferson High, and a 4-0 victory over Webster High. Webster, one of the leaders of the Monroe County League, had beaten McQuaid earlier in the season by one goal.

Senior Jim Carey and junior Joe Mancuso shared scoring honors. Also aiding the team were seniors John Hofmaster, Bill Becker, Tony Fien, and John Schwartz, who played consistently well on defense. Returning juniors, who should aid the team much next year, are Pete Menihan, Bob Eckl, and Denny Mochnal.

Varsity Basketball

A hot and cold McQuaid basketball team ran up eight victories against eleven defeats. Although this is the first losing season in the school's history, the records may be deceiving. The new coach, Mr. Kenneth L. Jones, took over a team made up of almost completely inexperienced players. Yet he molded together a squad which held its own, and played exceptionally well at times.

The Knights were led by seniors Jerry McCabe and Dick Spies, and sophomore Tony Leonardo. McCabe, who was voted the team's most valuable player, topped the scoring column with 229 points. Jerry also pulled in the most rebounds, snaring 226. Spies, along with his consistently fine ball handling, compiled 31 assists for the year. Dick also developed into a dependable scorer in the later stages of the campaign, turning in good games against East, Aquinas, and DeSales. Backing up these players was Leonardo, who surprised many with his fine rebounding. Although missing a number of games in the middle of the season, Tony returned in time to bolster the team in the Diocesan Tournament.

Starting off the season on a sour note, McQuaid fell before a team from Spencerport and suffered a one point defeat in the final seconds. This proved to be an expensive habit for Mr. Jones's boys, for they proceeded to lose five games by six points or less during the year. Yet, the team did rebound well with wins over Marshall and Mt. Carmel on successive weekends. However, McQuaid had an off-night in the first game with Aquinas. Leading only in the first quarter, the Knights were ineffective for the remainder of the game, and were on the short end of a 48-33 score. This defeat was a difficult one for the players to accept, and it would be over two months before they would be able to seek revenge.

After a disastrous Christmas tournament in New York city, the hoop-men from Clinton Avenue survived sloppy play, and one of the toughest schedules in the area, to post their best performances of the season. Highlighted by Terry Dunlavey's hot hand, the Knights kept pace with a powerful Canisius squad in the third and final encounter of the two teams. Although falling behind in the fourth quarter by seven points, McQuaid played good basketball, and gave the visitors from Buffalo a well-played game. The same may be said of the second clash with East, in which an entire team-effort came within six points of upsetting the previously unbeaten city cage leaders. Yet, sweat and frustrations were compensated for in a well-earned one point victory over Edison.

Although the scorebook may fail to be impressive, McQuaid should be proud of this year's team. The players never failed to provide the fans with an exciting brand of basketball, a type of basketball which shows effort, determination, and hard work. This is all one can ask of a team, and at no time should McQuaid rooters have been disappointed.

Jerry Bunce slips by for a score

Led on by great desire plus hustle and practice the Frosh posted a fine 17-2 record.

In opening its season, the Pages faced Bishop Kearney in their inaugural game at Aquinas. Tom Miller's 19 points paced the team to spoil Kearney's bid for victory. McQuaid winning 49-42. Due to inexperience with picks and switches the Pages were thrashed soundly by Aquinas 43-21. In one of the most hard fought see-saw games of the season the young Knights trimmed Brockport in overtime 44-41. Craig Smith netting 17 points. The team journeyed to Cardinal Mooney to meet the Cardinals in their new gym. In another close encounter, Tom Miller sank a free throw with 2 seconds remaining to pull out a tough victory, 45-44.

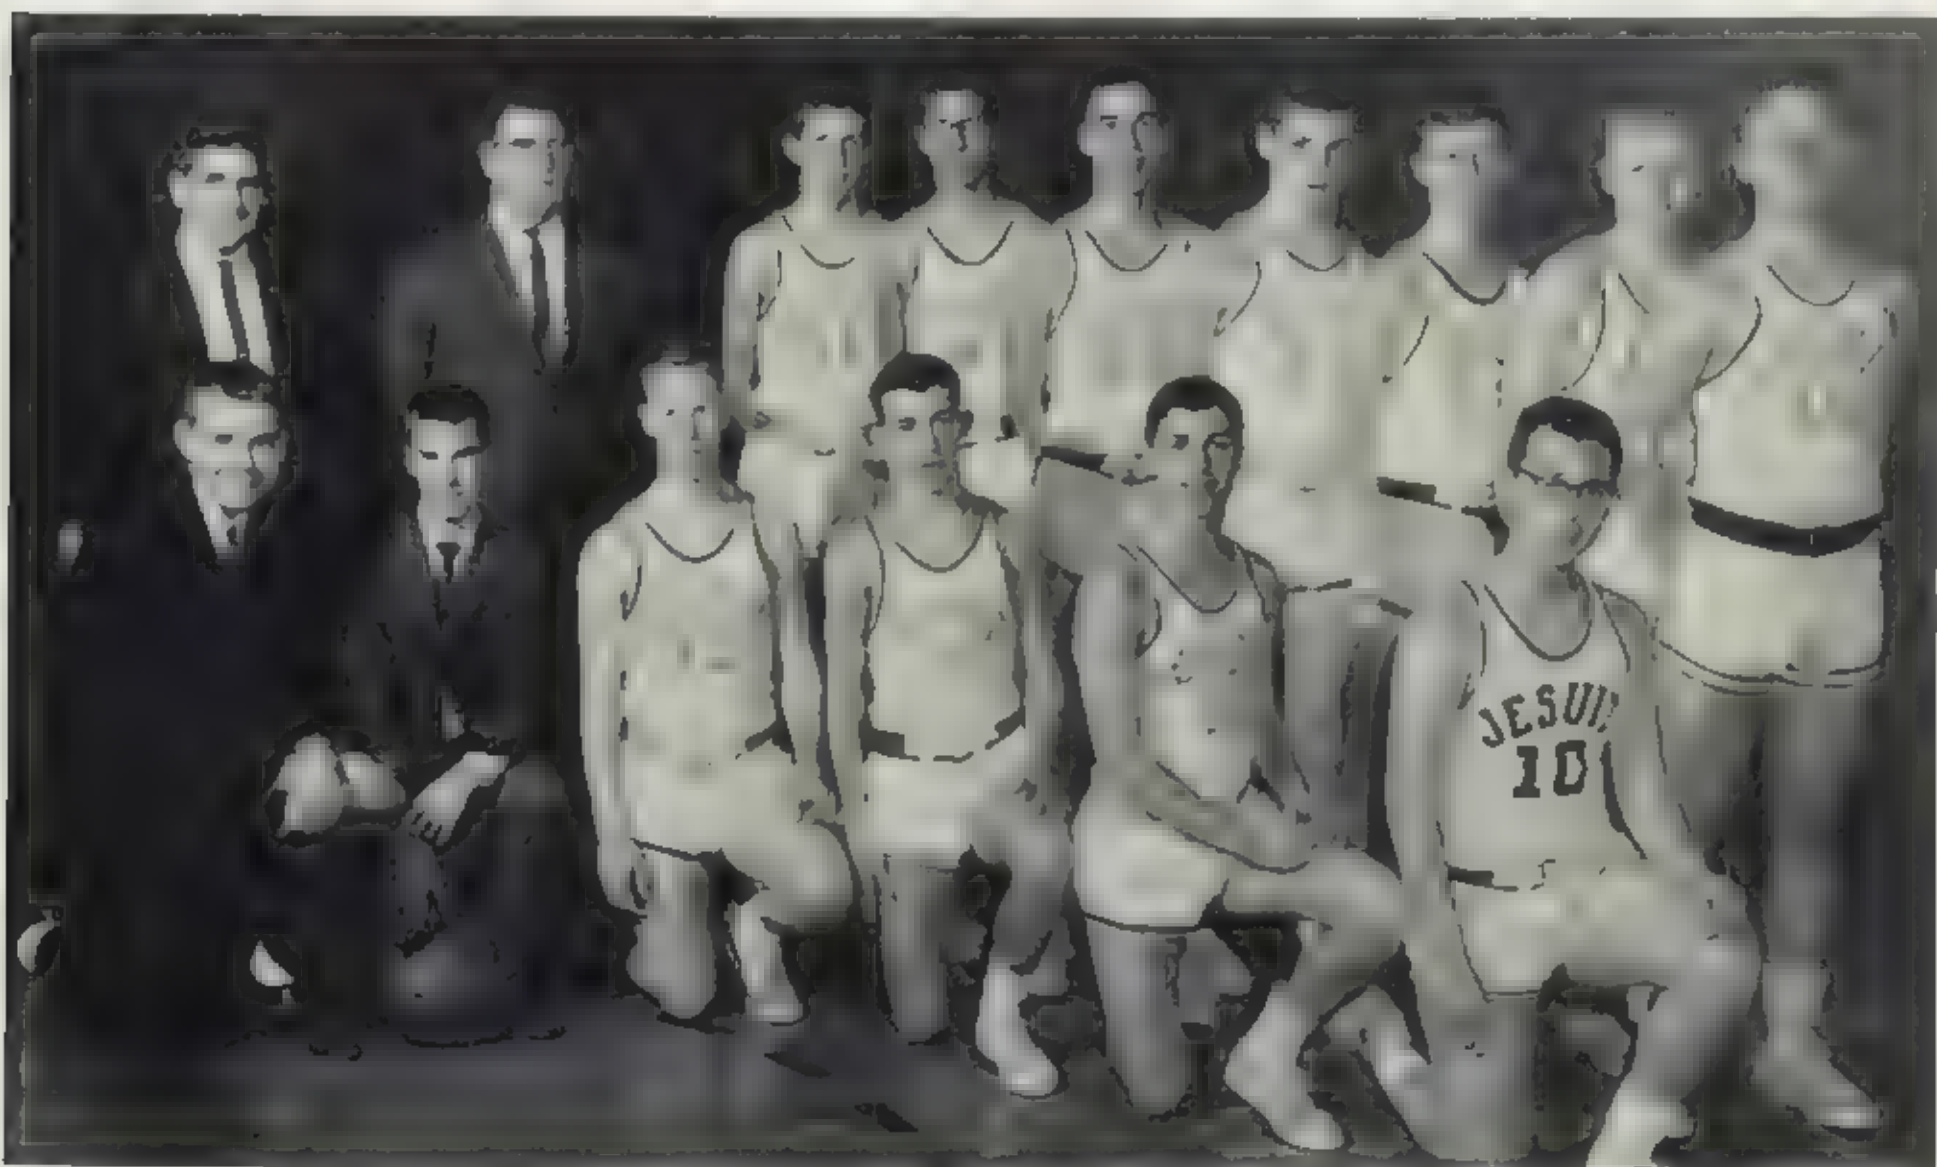

In the biggest game of the season—Aquinas at the War Memorial—the Knights were ready for revenge of an earlier defeat, 43-21. The Pages were led by the hot shooting of Craig Smith and the fine rebounding of Terry Rossiter. Toward the end of the game, Rossiter came through with a rebound that could result in a fast break. Smith, again and again, hit from the corner. So with great hustle and desire, when the final score was posted, the Frosh had gotten their sweet revenge winning 46-40.

The team was guided by new coach Mr. Thomas Seymour who taught them all their plays and really made them work. All the credit for developing the team is due to him. Four players were over the 100 point mark for the season: Craig Smith, Eric Kendrick, Tom Gibson, and Tom Miller. Other regulars included Terry Rossiter, Bert Dipaolo, Joe Rockwell and Pat Kelly.

Cross Country is the fastest growing fall sport in New York State. It's growing at McQuaid and the results of the season verify it. Under Coach Robert J. Bradley, the team competed in 105 schools in invitational competition and defeated 72 of them. They wound up the season with a .686 percentage surpassed only by the '59 team.

In the opening day meet at Utica, McQuaid placed 13th in a group of 30 schools. Our top man was Mike Connor who finished 8th. The J.V.'s placed 9th out of 32 schools.

Following this fine start, Mike Connor won the Alfred Almond Invitational on Columbus Day, and Paul Troskosky placed 15th among 77 harriers. McQuaid came in third in a field of 8 schools.

Another high point in the season came when all three teams shipped to Oswego for the Palladium Invitational. In gale force winds and freezing rain Brad Jones led the Knights to 6th place of 19 entries. Frank Ellison and Dick Lenhart contributed a 22nd and 27th, respectively. The J.V.'s came in third out of 13 teams, as Henry Hinz was 8th for McQuaid. Again the Frosts made a good showing, led by Abbott and Valby at 9th and 11th. The pages placed 6th in a field of 10.

On the third of November a champion McQuaid team walked off with the honors in the annual Doezin Championship at Watkins Glen. Mike Connor led the team to victory over three other schools, as he won the race and set a new course record.

In the lower weights, junior Joe Gahano scored ten straight wins without a loss in the 95 pound class. Senior Jim Blum, in the 127 pound class, came through with a number of important wins, raising his record to 8-1. Blum also set a new school record pinning his opponent in 38 seconds of the final match for the year. Senior Sam Desiderio, juniors Dick Hagidorn, Doug Adsit, Al Cirilla, Mike Quigley, Jim Viscardi, Dick Urquhart, sophomores Doug Kremer, Tony Gossana and Dave Foley, and freshmen Vic Palumbos, Phil Reed and Bob Latta filled out the lower weights and showed fine form all during the season.

Much of the credit for the finest wrestling team at McQuaid goes to the coach, Mr. Frank Noce, who guided and inspired his squad throughout the schedule.

Becker hands off to Merkel

In its last season, under the coaching of Terrence Foley, the 1962 track squad displayed winning form. Records of long standing were surpassed in eleven events. Mike Connor chopped the mile down to 4:51.4, and Bill Bruckel turned in a 53.9 quarter mile. In the high jump Al Smith bettered his old record of 5 feet 10 inches by a half inch, and Ted Fink put the shot nearly 48 feet. Among McQuaid's Triumphs were its defeat of traditional rival Canisius of Buffalo, and its capture of the title in a four-way meet at Dansville. Excellent performances were also put in at both the Geneva and Brighton relays.

Backed by depth and experience, the 1963 track team is intent on victory. Returning lettermen John Amann, Bill Becker, Bill Bruckel, Russ Dalba, Paul Merkel, and Mike Spiegel provide a firm footing for this year's success. New coach, James Van Allen, expects to find tougher competition this year, and has begun workouts early to insure peak performances. An experienced and spirited team stands ready to open its new season.

A black and white photograph of a group of people standing outdoors. In the center, a person in a light-colored dress stands prominently. To their left, another person is partially visible. To the right, a group of people is standing together. The background is dark and indistinct, but a large, arched structure is visible. The image is very dark and blurry, with high contrast between the light-colored figures and the dark background.

Whether the intramural sport was football, basketball, volleyball, or softball, the officials would always be member of a compact, altruistic group of sport enthusiasts, which we have come to know formally as the Athletic Council. This behind-the-scenes activity led by Mr. Sullivan, S.J., kept the intramural program in steady shape condition, by providing a steady flow of reliable referees, scorers, and timekeepers. The council's interests, however, were not limited solely to athletics. In fact, during most of November, the council found itself wrapped up in its annual Victory Dance. The committee for this dance was Pres. Mike Rohrer, Vice-Pres. Russ Dalba, Sec. Kevin Culhane, Treas. Chris Graver.

Participation in intramurals has two-fold advantages. Most obviously, it perfects a student's fitness and skill in competitive sports. More importantly, however, it generates a spirit of class loyalty, of devotion, and of teamwork.

All these benefits began to come into sharp focus at the start of school. There, the excellent weather, countless determined teams battling through one of the toughest football seasons ever. Next came the school's most successful and enthusiastic basketball seasons, which, together with the soccer, sports, volleyball, and softball, served as a means to the program's end of reaching every student every day.

The victories scored in intramurals are not believed outside McQuaid, and they are unknown to the intramural participant seldom achieve the skill obtained from varsity experience. Yet, great value is added to the program of sports conducted within the walls or upon the field of this special school. It represents a strengthening of educational methods, and is surely an integral part of the education of a McQuaid man.

EPILOGUE

It has been said that the high school years are opposed to those spent in college. The high school years are a time of fact, while the college years are a time of ideal. At this point, the values take precedence over fact in the teenager's learning process.

McQuaid Jesuit High School has determined an ideal, a value in which it seeks to school its students. That ideal, as we have seen it developed through the different phases of Knight life, has been one of functional, responsible, and Christian leadership. McQuaid looks hopefully, expectantly towards the graduate who, throughout college, can absorb knowledge into a Christian mind which has been formed by him in Jesuit education.

ROCHESTER is sometimes referred to as "the city that has everything." In business, industry and the profession, this is especially true. No matter what kind of a career appeals to you, there is an excellent chance that you can begin it right here. And the beginning is half the battle won!

It goes without saying that the first step is your formal education—as much as you can get. Employers look for this first. The next thing they look for is "brightness." And one key to "brightness" is how much you actually know about the kind of work you're going after. This is something you don't inherit from anybody. It is information you gather in advance for yourself—from parents, teachers, counselors, and friends. Most important—employers themselves are always ready to explain their standards and requirements.

Your idea of the best career for your particular talents may change, as you acquire more and more information about different fields of work. But when you decide what you want to do, some employer in the Rochester area will really want you—because by analyzing yourself, you have made yourself valuable.
